Message from the CO - Rear Admiral Ryan Case

Greetings Crew!

I trust that your Holiday and New Year were happy and safe - obviously, it was disappointing having to cancel face-to-face meetings throughout the year but particularly so for my favorite quarter of the year. The stretch from Halloween to New Years with the Haise is a special Dopamine hit that I enjoy every year... and not getting it felt like an empty hit to the gut.

That being said, it did allow for some family time which Ann and I attempted to take full advantage of - at Halloween we took Kahlan (dressed as Anna from Frozen 2) to McClain Lodge to feed some animals and partake in their "drive-in trick-or-treat" where we basically fed animals from our car windows and got handed a few handfuls of candy in return. Overall, not a bad experience and I highly recommend it.

Message from the CO - Rear Admiral Ryan Case

In my pictures, you'll see where I went to vote and ran into some coworkers directly ahead of me in line where we chatted about Star Trek, anime, and DND for the hour and forty-five-minute wait that we endured. Despite the wait, I was excited by the turnout and hope that that particular trend continues in the years to come. For Thanksgiving and Christmas, we got together with my mom (who is inside our COVID bubble and has thus far remained COVID-free) and just tried to enjoy the company despite not being able to partake in some of our yearly rituals (going to various locations and seeing certain folks, mostly). We took the time to cook more things we haven't tried in the past and (pictured) helped Kahlan make some cookies for Santa. While the changes were a bit jarring, it definitely created a different "feel" to the holidays that I'm not sure I minded.

There's a lot going on these days in the Admiralty Board world, most of which I find myself right in the thick of but, overall, nothing that has vastly affected the well-behaved membership - just a bunch of bad actors finally being dealt with. Likely more to follow in that vein in next Quarter's issue, but at the moment am not at liberty to continue discussing.

Special "Thank You" to CO Ryan Case for his awesome help with the newsletter.

Hello Star Trek Fans

By the time you read this it will already be 2021. May we warp speed thru COVID-19 in 2021 and be free of it! I miss seeing the USS Haise crew! I wish you and your families a very blessed, safe, and healthy new year.

05-167524

Just wanted to let you know that this will probably be my last newsletter, since I have resigned as Chief of Communications/Editor of Commlink in the last quarter of 2020. The reason being is that we plan to move in the near future to Tennessee where our daughter and son-in-law live. I have so much to do to get ready for this move! We have lived here for 33 years. We want to be nearer to them as we age. I have enjoyed doing this great newsletter for the chapter so much. Glenn & I will still be members of the USS Haise until we move.

05-934720

In a need to get away for a while, in October we went to visit Michelle & James and checked out various subdivisions for fun. We also took a day trip to Metropolis, Illinois which happens to be the home of a place called the Super Museum & Gift Shop which houses an awesome collection of Superman collectibles especially from all the TV, Movies, Comics, etc., of Superman. This was such an awesome place. They had so many items from the TV stage set where George Reeves played Superman on TV. Michelle & James also took me to the Nashville Zoo Halloween Light display! We have so much fun when we go to their house - so much more to do there!

In November, we went back to Michelle's for Thanksgiving. We all gathered together for Thanksgiving Dinner (in our masks) at James' parents' home in Columbia, Tennessee for a wonderful meal and fellowship. Love this family so much!

05-934720

In December, we went back for Christmas! We even had a few snow flurries while there. I got to play and be with Khan a lot. After gift exchanging at Michelle's home on Christmas morning, we all gathered on Christmas Day, again in our masks except for eating, at James brother's family new home for another wonderful lunch and exchanging presents. We even got some Star Trek items for Christmas! We had such a wonderful time! We had one unexpected incident. On the Sunday after Christmas James, Michelle, and I headed out to go walking around at the mall near their home. James was driving his car with Michelle in the front passenger seat and I'm in the rear seat. We had turned right, and he was yielding to oncoming traffic and we were hit in the rear by another car. First, we are all OK, thankfully. Just in shock though at first, sore from the hit on our lower backs and back of our heads. James car was drivable and we went back to their house. Glenn & I traveled home on Tuesday.

We have been staying in out of the cold and staying safe and healthy from COVID-19 since we got home.

We have loved watching Star Trek Discovery Season 3! So awesome! Check it out!

Editor - Just wanted to share a story about one of our crew members!

Update on our crew member Bill Downes from his mom, Laurie B. Downes

October 2020 -

Our precious son, Bill, was in the hospital for extensive seizure monitoring. For 5 days, he had a continual 24/7 EEG with video cam. (The "bandage" was only to protect the EEG wires glued to his head.) COVID-19 restrictions only allowed 1 "visitor" per patient, but our family was blessed to receive an exception that allowed Wes & me to switch day & night shifts, so one parent could stay at all times! Even in the hospital, being watched continually, Bill read his Bible and prayed over his meals every day! (His 2nd photo shows Bill after discharge, ready to go home!)

Our family has been home a few days now, but Bill still has a chronic headache and is adjusting to changes in his seizure meds. Please keep Sweet William (named by his 1st Pediatric Neurosurgeon) in your prayers! Thanks!

P.S. Our family has been incredibly blessed that this is the first time Bill has stayed in the hospital since he last had his shunt replaced in 1999!!! Just one of God's multiple miracles in our son's 39 years!

12-357854

The USS Haise did not have an online meeting in November due to scheduling problems with the Pandemic.

Wishing the crew and their families a blessed Happy Thanksgiving!

Below are some Star Trek Thanksgiving stories!

12-635487

Thanksgiving was originally a holiday observed in the United States of America and Canada on Earth that enabled people to celebrate being thankful for what they had. It was still celebrated as of the 2370s.

During Charles Tucker III's childhood in the 22nd century, his father placed a Thanksgiving turkey on their dining room table, not knowing his son had removed all the screws. The table collapsed, and Trip was subsequently grounded for a month. (ENT: "Observer Effect")

12-983014

In 2266, the crew of the USS Enterprise were prepared to celebrate Thanksgiving. Captain Kirk was irritated because there was not any turkey on board the ship; the crew was going to have to eat meatloaf instead. Kirk was later informed that, while in the ovens, the meatloaf mysteriously transformed into turkey. This transformation was caused by Charles Evans, a boy with incredible powers. (TOS: "Charlie X")

13-845888

In 2372, Benjamin Sisko invited the entire senior staff of Deep Space 9 to Thanksgiving dinner. The captain had been growing vegetables for months to serve at the dinner. A year later, Michael Eddington told Sisko that he thought his former commanding officer had added too much tarragon to the stuffing. (DS9: "Blaze of Glory")

13-901876

12-357854

The USS Haise did not have a December Christmas Party meeting due to scheduling problems with the Pandemic.

We all deeply missed our annual Christmas Party that is always held at the home of Clay Bartunek which is always so much fun with Dirty Santa and yummy food! Maybe in 2021!

Below are some Star Trek Christmas stories! Enjoy!

Christmas is an annual Earth religious and cultural holiday that commemorated the birth of Jesus Christ and was celebrated on December 25. While central to the faith of Christianity, it also expanded to include such fixtures as Santa Claus, Christmas trees and wreaths.

In 2000 – while recording a personal journal entry on December 27 – Shannon O'Donnell noted that, while she wasn't looking forward to New Year's Eve, at least Christmas was over. Despite this, Alexandria Books was still decorated for that holiday, including a star and an ornament of a reindeer pulling a sleigh. (VOY: "11:59")

In the Julian Bashir, Secret Agent holoprogram, Julian Bashir gave Anastasia Komananov a set of exploding earrings for Christmas of 1963. (DS9: "Our Man Bashir")

12-983014

In 2152, Jonathan Archer sarcastically suggested that he thought the Kreetassan reconciliation demands might involve "standing on one foot with my eyes shut reciting 'The Night Before Christmas'." (ENT: "A Night in Sickbay")

13-845888

Jean-Luc Picard alongside a Christmas tree in 2265, a Christmas party was held for personnel in the science labs of the Federation starship Enterprise. (TOS: "Dagger of the Mind")

13-901876

Christmas is the setting of A Christmas Carol, a play in which Data was going to be performing as Ebenezer Scrooge in 2367. (TNG: "Devil's Due") When telling Harry Kim about why he finally confessed to his incidence of pilot error, which killed his shipmates, Tom Paris joked that "the ghosts of those three dead officers came to me in the middle of the night and taught me the true meaning of Christmas." (VOY: "Caretaker", "Non Sequitur")

While trapped in the Nexus in 2371, Captain Jean-Luc Picard experienced a Christmas – complete with a Christmas tree, presents and dinner – with his illusory children and wife, before being shaken from his reverie and resuming his mission to stop Tolian Soran from destroying the Veridian system. (Star Trek Generations)

Christmas tree ornaments -

While attempting to escape Q in 2372, Quinn briefly tried to hide the USS Voyager, disguising it as an ornament on a Christmas tree. (VOY: "Death Wish")

In 2376, overwhelmed with gifts from various visitors, Kathryn Janeway rhetorically asked Chakotay if it didn't look like Christmas morning in here. (VOY: "Survival Instinct")

Also that year, the holographic character Michael Sullivan mentioned Christmas twice, once when he described Harry Kim and Tom Paris as being "trussed up like Christmas turkeys", and when Janeway gave him a copy of Mark Twain's A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court, asking her if it was "Christmas come early" (VOY: "Spirit Folk")

TRACTOR BEAM

Comes in handy to snag that last minute Christmas gift.

Due to the COVID-19 pandemic, the USS HAISE did not have any in-person events, etc. Good Bye 2020!!!!!!!

We do look forward to the future when we can again gather together for our Star Trek chapter events.

We are living in a completely different world now than a year ago. Just think last year at this time, (as of this writing on January 14, 2021), COVID-19 was just becoming a blip on the radar. I was about to start a new job (more on that later) and attend the SCI-FI/Star Trek Convention on the Gulf Coast. Now, our lives are completely turned upside down and while the COVID-19 vaccine is finally approved, it is running into roadblocks on delivery and being deployed to those that need it.

One positive note of the whole COVID-19 experience is "Operation Warp Speed" which definitely has ties to Star Trek! I found an article online that really summarizes the tie in well and wanted to share it with you. I would also recommend getting the COVID-19 vaccine once you are eligible and discussing any questions or concerns about the COVID-19 vaccine with your doctor or licensed health care practitioner.

We will get through this. We are a family and if anyone needs any help at any point in time, please reach out to me or anyone else on the Ship. I can't wait until we are able to finally meet back in person again!

Source: <https://www.dailystartreknews.com/read/epidemiologist-says-creation-of-covid-19-vaccine-is-like-star-trek-actor-george-takei-encourages-fans-to-get-vaccinated>

DECEMBER 14, 2020 - A Boston University epidemiologist has said the creation of some COVID-19 vaccines is "like Star Trek".

As the world is gripped by a dramatic rise in COVID-19 cases, a light at the end of the tunnel is starting to emerge. NPR affiliate WBUR reported that biotech company Moderna is on the verge of having a vaccine approved for distribution after two months of successful clinical trials. The vaccine's approval is expected sometime this week, just days after a vaccine from the joint efforts of Pfizer and BioNTech was approved for use in the United States and the United Kingdom.

Message from XO - Captain Joe Keenan - cont'd

19-998210

Moderna's phase three clinical trials produced exceptional results. After two months of study, the vaccine showed a 94.1% efficacy rate against COVID-19 with no outstanding health concerns. The Moderna vaccine, like the earlier Pfizer one, uses modified mRNA, or messenger RNA. The genetic code of the mRNA strand is used to direct cells to construct a spike on the coronavirus cell, which the immune system uses to defend against the virus.

20-634851

On the method used to create the vaccine, Boston University epidemiologist Dr. Benjamin Linas said, "It's like Star Trek. [No one has ever] made vaccines in this way [...] the potential to rip out new vaccines is incredible. All you do is sequence the virus, come up with the snippet of RNA, and you're off to the races." While Linas's characterization of the process is undoubtedly simplified (just a little bit!), it nonetheless indicates how novel the method is. WBUR noted that, beyond using it for the COVID-19 vaccine, it has the potential to be used to treat disease, cancer, bacterial infections, and even spinal cord injuries.

Of course, developing the vaccine is one thing, and making sure it gets taken is another. And at least one Star Trek star is trying to make that process "like Star Trek", too.

Original Series actor and outspoken activist George Takei took to Twitter recently to remind fans of the importance of getting vaccinated, and that the ideals and values of Star Trek should apply to the very real crisis of the COVID-19 pandemic. In the tweet, Takei wrote, "If you are a Star Trek fan, but you refuse to get vaccinated, then you are not living up to the ideals of Star Trek. Science, logic, and compassion require us to all do our part."

Message from Chief of Operations - Lt. Commander Clay Bartunek

19-998210

We're still in Lock Down, so not much has happened with us meeting this last quarter. Due to the pandemic, I didn't attend the Mississippi State Fair this year. I usually go every October. On the morning of the 14th I had to take mom to the ER, the last place I wanted to take her during these COVID-19 times. It took about 5 hours to get a bay in the ER. After being there for about 2 hours, I had to run back out to the car to get something. It looked like something you might see in a sci-fi movie about a major disaster. The long driveway at St. Dominic's was filled with cars, bumper to bumper trying to get admitted.

20-634851

Out by the front doors there must have been at least 15 wheel chairs with people in them and most didn't have anyone standing with the patients. Inside, mom's nurse was calling out all the patients there with COVID-19, one in the bay next to us! There were gurneys in the hallways of the ER with patients moaning and groaning saying, "I can't believe I got COVID-19!" If anyone out there still believes this pandemic isn't real, I've got news for you. We were right in the middle of it. Our health care system is overwhelmed and folks are truly stressed.

20-753912

At 11pm I was finally able to admit mom to the hospital and got her a room. She stayed there until the 19th and then I got her admitted to a nursing home for re-hab. She stayed there for the rest of the month and into November, in quarantine the first 14 days. The only "Trek" thing that happened this month was we had a club Discord meeting on the 17th where I got to see a few of you.

21-854122

Our November 14th scheduled Discord meeting was cancelled; however, I was able to do something fun on the 22nd. Believe it or not, for the first time in my life, I got on and rode a 4 Wheeler! Ethan's younger brother, Bud, has one and we had a great time even though it was short. I will definitely be doing this again. I was finally able to discharge mom on Nov. 25, the day before Thanksgiving of which I cooked our entire dinner by myself!

22-002145

Message from Chief of Operations - Lt. Commander Clay Bartunek - cont'd

19-998210

Don't worry, no one got sick, and it really seemed to taste good. Again, the only "Trek" thing going on was watching the 3rd season of Star Trek Discovery of which I'm truly enjoying, some of the best Trek ever. I can't tell you why as there would be spoilers.

20-634851

Our December 9th scheduled Discord meeting was cancelled like last month's. Ever since I can remember, even as a toddler, I have always been to a Christmas Eve service every year of my life. Well, not this COVID-19 year. It was on Zoom. I am thankful for that, but it's just not the same. I know I'm blessed. I was able to have a quiet, safe Christmas Eve with my family. Many people in the world this year didn't. I am sad for this. This is the same for New Year's Eve. Mine was quiet, but I was with family and we had a really nice dinner. Not everyone this year did. I really do have hope for the future though. Jan. 20th 12 noon can't get here soon enough! It'll be a few months, but things will be turning around the better. Here are some quotes to help us put things in perspective: - Stay safe shipmates.

Message from Chief Medical Officer - Lt. Commander Ann Case

19-998210

The end of 2020 is finally here!

October was very sad because Halloween is our favorite holiday. We still did all our decorations but knowing it wasn't going to happen was hard. It was also Kahlan's first real Halloween to know what was going on and how to trick or treat. We managed to save it by doing the trick or treating at McClain Lodge Safari drive thru. We dressed Kahlan up and she got to feed the animals and get candy in the drive thru park. We also had friends pretend to hand candy through the webcam to her bucket! They all went out to buy the same candy that we had bought to hand out. It was really cute!

20-634851

November brought in Thanksgiving blues for a lot of people, but we managed to see my family. We did all share a cold during that time and it just passed through each of the family who was present. But we got to have some of our favorite foods.

20-753912

December came quickly and decorations for Christmas brought in a lot of cheer! We had a lot of fun driving around and looking at lights! We didn't get to see all of our family, but we saw a few and each one was fun and special! Baking cookies for Santa was super enjoyable and Kahlan had a blast! Her favorite part was eating all the extra cookies that weren't for Santa!

21-854122

2020 has been a tough year with the pandemic but some good came out of it! For example, we had a lot of family time with Kahlan.

A pandemic was the last thing we expected from the year and I have missed everyone so much, but I want y'all to know that I love you and can't wait to see you all again!

22-002145

19-998210

Was the USS Voyager assigned a counselor?

The USS Voyager was not originally assigned a counselor, as the nature of its mission didn't require one. (VOY: "Phage", "The Cloud") Later, Neelix appointed himself morale officer, a position of his own invention, to take on the responsibilities of a counselor.

Starfleet maintains a variety of security codes for use during both peacetime and wartime. These codes are arranged by priority from 1 to 50. The function of the individual codes is summarized below.

SSC 1-10: SSC's 1-10 are for normal peacetime transmissions of varying priorities, with routine transmissions between commercial planetary centers receiving a priority dispatch of 1 through 5, and levels 6 through 10 being used for Starfleet communications.

SSC 11-20: SSC's 11-20 are used in conditions of hostilities between the Federation and a foreign power. These priorities are used to transmit orders regarding the disposition of vessels and ground troops, the relocation of civilian personnel, the assigning of Starfleet resources to different commands, operations orders for these commands and specific operations orders.

SSC 21-29: SSC's 21-29 are for use by the Federation Diplomatic Corps.

These codes specify conditions of emergency, with variable priority levels given to specific problems or crisis conditions during peacetime operations:

SSC 30: Transmission of a communication using SSC 30 indicates an emergency condition involving a planetary disaster or other unspecified emergency. Use of this code means that the sending station is not able to adequately respond to the emergency and requires immediate help at the scene.

SSC 31: SSC 31 is used for a medical emergency.

SSC 32: SSC 32 indicates a planetary crisis of natural origin.

SSC 33: SSC 33 is used for a bio-medical crisis requiring immediate evacuation of personnel.

SSC 34: SSC 34 indicates a bio-medical crisis requiring immediate quarantine.

SSC 35: SSC 35 signals an ecological disaster or similar planetary crisis.

SSC 36-38: SSC's 36 through 38 are used for crises of unknown origin that require the immediate evacuation of a large segment of a planet's population.

SSC 39: SSC 39 indicates an attack by unknown agents on Federation personnel or on civilian installations or residences.

These codes indicate classified material and restrict dissemination of that material:

SSC 40: SSC 40 communications are directed at a specific starship or star base Chief Science Officer, for disclosure to ship or base command staff only.

SSC 41: SSC 41 communications are directed at a specific starship or star base Chief Science Officer, for disclosure to the senior officer present only.

SSC 42: SSC 42 communications are directed at a specific starship or starbase Chief Medical Officer, for disclosure to ship or base command staff only.

SSC 43: SSC 43 communications are directed at a specific starship or starbase Chief Medical Officer, for disclosure to the senior officer present only.

SSC 44: SSC 44 communications are directed at a specific starship or starbase Chief of Security, for disclosure to ship or base command staff only.

SSC 45: SSC 45 communications are directed at a specific starship or starbase Chief of Security, for disclosure to the senior officer present only.

SSC 46: SSC 46 communications are directed to the Commanding Officer of a starship or star base, for disclosure to ship or base command staff only.

SSC 47: SSC 47 communications are directed to the Commanding Officer of a starship or star base. They are not to be disclosed to ship or base command staff, and no acknowledgement or log entry of the communication is to be made.

These codes indicate high-level origins of the communication and are restricted to specific individuals.

20-634851

SSC 48: SSC 48 communications are reserved for the CinC Starfleet.

SSC 49: SSC 49 communications are reserved for members of the Federation Council or their designated representatives.

SSC 50: SSC 50 communications are reserved for the President of the Federation.

Departmental Access Codes

Departmental Access Codes are general codes for use by members of a ship's department. Such a code might be used to access log entries or other routine files and programs, or to issue orders to the computer. These codes consist of the ship's department, a Greek letter, and a numerical code. The higher the Greek letter in the alphabet, the greater the access. High-level access may require voiceprint confirmation, a Personal Access Code or authorization from a superior officer. An example of a Departmental Access Code might be: Engineering Access Code: Gamma three one four two.

Personal Access Codes

Personal Access Codes identify the person accessing a particular file or program or issuing an order. They are given in a similar format to Departmental Access Codes, substituting the person's surname for the department name. All Personal Access Codes are voiceprint confirmed, and higher-level access may require handprint or retinal scans for confirmation. An example of a Personal Access Code might be: Access Code: Perrini Delta five one two seven.

Alerts

Starships and starbases are not normally kept on alert. When not on alert, Shift A is on duty and Shifts B and C are off duty (this presupposes a standard three-shift duty cycle).

Yellow Alert: This is a moderate level of alert. Shift A remains on duty, preparing the duty station for battle readiness, warming up equipment and securing all loose and /or fragile items. Shift B goes on duty and joins Shift A at the duty station.

Red Alert: This is a high level of alert. Shift C goes on duty, joining Shifts A and B at the duty station. All stations report readiness to the Bridge when fully manned. Personnel designated Damage Control auxiliaries will report to their Damage Control stations.

20-634851

Abandon Ship: All personnel drop whatever they are doing and report to their assigned Lifeboat Pod for evacuation. The only exceptions are Shift A Security personnel, on-duty Bridge crew, on-duty Medical staff and designated auxiliary craft Command pilots.

General Quarters

General Quarters is a series of security protocols detailing security procedures on starships and starbases.

21-854122

General Quarters One: GQ1 is automatically instituted when a Yellow Alert is declared. All Security personnel are issued Phaser II sidearms, and one Security crewman may be stationed on the Bridge until orders are given to stand down from General Quarters. Phasers are to be locked to Stun cycle.

General Quarters Two: GQ2 is automatically instituted when a Red Alert is declared. Security personnel are issued Phaser II sidearms and may be issued Phaser rifles. One or two Security personnel are positioned on the Bridge, and Security detachments are placed at all Transporter rooms and hangar bays. In addition, Security detachments are positioned on all non-Engineering decks. Phasers are to be locked on Stun cycle.

22-002145

General Quarters Three: GQ3 is normally issued during an Intruder Alert. All Security personnel are issued Phaser II sidearms and may be issued Phaser rifles. Two Security personnel are positioned on the Bridge, and Security patrols all decks in pairs, in addition to the provisions of GQ2. Phasers are locked to Heavy Stun cycle.

General Quarters Four: GQ4 is issued when the ship is in danger of being boarded. All Security personnel are issued Phaser II sidearms and Phaser rifles. In addition to the provisions of GQ3, Security detachments are positioned in all Engineering spaces, Life Support, the main computer core and the Auxiliary Bridge. Hangar and airlock doors are sealed, and security forcefields may be raised. Phasers may be set to lethal settings.

Happy Birthday to all USS Haise crew members, Star Trek fans, & Star Trek celebrities who have upcoming birthdays in JANUARY, FEBRUARY, & MARCH, 2021.

Due to the coronavirus, and until further notice, our meetings will be in video chat online with Discord, the 3rd Saturday of each month at 6:30 PM.

We all miss seeing each other in person and being together, but we look forward to making future plans when this virus is properly handled.

We will keep the Star Trek & USS Haise news coming to you quarterly and hope you and your families stay safe and healthy.

Live Long & Prosper!
